Listen to Maj. Davis; It's all About a Band of Darktown Minstrels.

Maj. C. A. Davis is as tickled as a boy waiting for a circus. A real Darkytown ministred show is coming and the major is always happy when that is the case. He thinks the white ministrels will never succeed in being as fulny in blackface as the negro himself, and does not heastate to say so. Accordingly, the announcement of the coming of Richards's and Pringles's ministrels to the Texas Grand Sunday and Monday nights has fired the major with so much enthusiasm that it brings vividly back the memory of the old days when he press agented for a circus and wrote "August Array of Arena Attractions" and other things more exphonious than truthful, so here is the way he told Bert Orndorff about the minuters today:

This bunch of black boys, flushed with glittering successes on the coast, will radiate, scintillate and cachinate in a manner that is calculated to bulge the sides and tear the roof off of manager McClintock's popular playbouse. Some press agenting, eh?

White ministrels have their good noints and may excel in an aesthetic way, the major continued, "but, after all, they are only an imitation. For real, rib-tickling fun and singing with a thrill in it, there's nothing so satisfying as that furnished by the Darktown talent.

"Lovers of the old plantation melodies will be interested to know that Richards and Pringle carry a remarkably large and effective singing gontingent. Three quartets—the Georgia Troubadours, Crescent City Four and the Mississippi Serenaders—sing the old southern classics in a way that charms the American heart as nothing else can.

"Headed by Clarence Powell, the unit talker from Tennessee, the list of Maj. C. A. Davis is as tickled as charms the American Beart as nothing else can.

"Headed by Charence Powell, the tail talker from Tennessee, the list of meiancholia destroyers is a notable one. It includes Manxie Camphell, the black Lew Dockstader; Benny Jones, Dave Smith, Jerry Mills, Jakie (Chicken) Smith, Bill Langford (brother of the great Sam); Johnnie Watta, Pewee Williams and 'Doc' Johnson Added to these comedians is a long line of miliatorial specialists and big time vandevillats, the whole forming what Monday morning, starting from the Texas Grand at 11:20. Between 12 and directed by P. G. 12:30 the band, directed Lowry, described as "a c tuoso," will give a concert in front of The Herald office.
